

BOER AND BRITON IN BLOODY FIGHT

Engagement Being Fought Near Kimberley.

CAPE TOWN IS RIFE WITH RUMOR.

Opposing Forces Said to Be Engaged at Spytfontein, on the Railroad.—No Chance to Get Messages Through as All the Wires are Cut.—Imperial Authorities Call Out Cape Volunteers.—Cabinet Meeting Was Postponed Until Tomorrow.

Cape Town, Oct. 16.—[Special Cable]—
It is reported that fighting is going on south of Kimberley, at Spytfontein, on the railroad.

Cape Town, Oct. 16.—[Special Cable]—
The Schreiner ministry, having refused to call out the Cape volunteers, the imperial authorities have issued a call on their own initiative. The friction between the Dutch and English in the colony is becoming critical.

Boers Reach Dannhauser.
Durban, Natal, Oct. 16.—[Special Cable].—The van of the Boers' column invading Natal, consisting of two thousand men and sixteen guns has reached Dannhauser, fifteen miles northeast of Dundee and ten miles from Glencoe.
Ladysmith is forty miles south.

It is thought that the Boers intend to isolate Dundee from Ladysmith, and the attack on Dundee is expected today or tomorrow.

Cabinet Meeting Postponed.
London, Oct. 16.—[Special Cable]—
The cabinet meeting called for today, was postponed until tomorrow.

Cape Town, Oct. 16.—The town of Kimberley is besieged by the Boers and all communication with the place, either by rail or telegraph, has been cut off.

The Boers have seized the railway station at Spytfontein, which is near Kimberley, and fortified it with earthworks. An unconfirmed report says that a stiff engagement took place at Spytfontein. The result is not known.
The Boers have cut the railway at Belmont, fifty-six miles south of Kimberley, and also at a point twelve miles to the southward of Kimberley.
The strong defending force at Modder bridge, which is twenty-four miles south of Kimberley, and between the places where the line is cut, is likely to be attacked.

Railroad to the North Cut.
The railway service northward to Warrenton, forty-four miles from Kimberley, where the line crosses the Vaal river, has been suspended since yesterday. Two passenger trains and a freight train went through Kimberley yesterday. The latter carried 1,000 bags of meal consigned to the Transvaal government from Cape Town.
When the train arrived at Vryburg the officials refused to deliver the meal.
The Boers threatened to take it, but they were too late.

Four thousand men are now available for the defense of Kimberley. The people at last accounts were calm and confident.

The object of the energetic operations of the Boers about Kimberley is believed to be the capture of Cecil Rhodes, who is there, and who declared that one was as safe there as on Piccadilly.

Red Cross Reported Fired On.
Telegrams from Kimberley dated yesterday declared that the Boers fired on a hospital train flying the Red Cross flag near Maribogo.

Conyngham Greene, formerly British diplomatic agent at Pretoria, who left that city on the outbreak of hostilities, arrived here Saturday evening.
A large crowd awaited his arrival, and he was heartily cheered as he left the train.

Shots Exchanged Near Glencoe.
Dundee, Natal, Oct. 16.—British and Boer scouts have exchanged shots in the neighborhood of Glencoe, five and a half miles west of Dundee, where a British force is encamped. No one on either side was hurt. The Boers withdrew.

The Boers have seized seven horses belonging to the police patrol near Jager's drift, on the Buffalo river, about ten miles northeast of here. It is not known what has become of the riders, but it is supposed that they were captured.

It is reported that the Boers are now in possession of the Brakwal station,
at the foot of Van Reenen's pass.

A Boer force has been seen at Bester's station, near Ladysmith, but they retreated later toward Brakwal.

The Boers under Commandant Viljoen occupied Newcastle Saturday afternoon. It is said that the Boer commander sent messengers to warn the inhabitants that he was coming and to assure them that no one would be harmful. He added that he only wanted forage and food, for which he would pay anything taken from

BRYAN FOR HARMONY IN KENTUCKY RANKS

Says a Divided Democracy Cannot Hope to Win the Day—Contest of National Scope.

Bardwell, Ky., Oct. 16.—[Special]— Col. Bryan made his first speech in behalf of harmony in the Kentucky democracy this morning, here to an enthusiastic audience of three thousand.
He said:

"Whether there will be a democratic president next year depends somewhat on what you do here. If the democrats are divided we can't defeat the republicans. I want Goebel and Blackburn elected."

Bryan and the prominent state politicians are traveling on a special train.

FOR A ONE-MAN POWER

President Salisbury of the Whitewater
Normal School, Believes
In It.

At the dinner given by the Milwaukee Educational club, Albert Salisbury, president of the Whitewater Normal school, made an address upon "The One-Man Power." He said that he believed in the one-man power, not only in school government, but in all kinds of government; that it was the only power that had ever been successful.
He said that democracy was not the only thing we had been led to believe,
but that it was merely an arrangement made to help govern, and he believed the best government came from the "one-man power." He took no stock in the sentiment, as he called it, that true republican government came from the consent of the governed, and said that was not at all essential.

Jonathan Piper of Honey Creek, also made an interesting address, in which he took issue with Mr. Salisbury on some points.

WE HAVE EXPANDED; SHALL WE CONTRACT?

Cedar Falls, Iowa, Oct. 16.—[Special]—The presidential party was greeted by a large crowd at the first stop at Iowa Falls this morning. Wild applause followed an utterance of President McKinley:

"It is now no longer a question of expansion," he said.
"This territory in the Philippines came to us in the provi-
of God. We did not seek it. Now, who is in favor of contraction?"

Dubuque, Oct. 16.—[Special]—The presidential train was greeted here by ten thousand people. President Mc-Kinley was driven to Washington park, where he addressed a great crowd. His speech was devoted almost entirely to praise of the Iowa soldiers for their conduct in the war in the Philippines.
W. P. KING, JR.

Milwaukee, Oct. 16.—[Special]—The special train bearing President McKinley and his party will not reach Milwaukee until 6 o'clock this evening, instead of 5:40 as originally scheduled.

This information was received by The Sentinel in a dispatch from Sioux City, Ia., from Mr. Cortelyou, assistant secretary to the president, in response to an inquiry, and similar information also reached Henry O. Payne, through a special messenger who placed in his hands the official time table, a special publication issued for the use of the presidential party.

The distinguished visitors will be placed in carriages with members of the reception committee, by Sergeant at-Arms George N. Wiskow in the following order, and taken to Hotel Pfister:

Doctors say Babbitt's chances for life or death are about equal.

The two men reside on North Madison street, and are both well known, being about fifty-five years of age, and for many years residents of this city.
For some time past they had failed to agree as to the boundary line,
and about nine o'clock this morning Robey took an axe, and began to chop a tree on the disputed territory. Babbitt remonstrated, and words followed.
Babbitt claims that he was not the aggressor, but Robey says he acted in self defense. At any rate, Robey struck Babbitt with the axe, on the head.

Dr. Spencer, who treated the injured man, said that Babbitt's skull was fractured, and he is also suffering from concussion.

Word was sent to District Attorney Jackson at Janesville, who will take charge of the case.

Racine Man Killed in Chicago.

Racine, Wis., Oct. 16.—Mrs. E. L. Da-poison of the African cannibals.

James Brown appeared in the mun-

Delaney was sent to jail for six days, being unable to pay a $3 fine for being drunk, and Brown's case was adjudged until Wednesday morning.

The case of F. C. Cook vs. Wilson

THE COLUMBIA WINNER OF THE FIRST CONTEST

The Columbia won today's race At no time was there really any danger of defeat The wind was steady, and gave neither boat an advantage. So the contest was on its merits.

Navesink, Highlands, N. J. Oct. 16.—

[Special]—After seven unsuccessful attempts to pull off the international yacht race had been made, the conditions this morning were not favorable to a good race, although both boats crossed the starting line at eleven o'clock. The atmosphere is foggy and the wind blows twelve miles an hour. Not an excursion boat was present when the start was made. The unofficial time shows that the Shamrock beat the Columbia across the starting line.

At 12:15 o'clock, the yachts were well on towards the turning mark. The Columbia led by half a mile and was widening the gap constantly. The wind was holding steadily. The Columbia the missing outfit, but to no avail. All the officers of the city were notified at 7 o'clock and are endeavoring to locate the lost rig.

GUILTY ALONE FREED

Zola Must Stand Trial and Dreyfus Is Not Reinstated by General Amnesty.

Paris, Oct. 16.—[Special Cable.]—
The Marin says that the general amnesty to be proclaimed for those involved in the recent troubles will not affect the trials of M. Zola or Joseph Reinach, nor will it reinstate Capt. Dreyfus.
Reinach is being sued by the widow of Col. Henry for libeling her husband.
The Zola case comes up in November.

Logging on Odanah Reservation.

Ashland, Wis., Oct. 16.—Logging on the Odanah reservation is progressing rapidly and the arrangements have now been completed so that the Stearns mill will be run all winter on logs hauled in by rail from Mercier's camp near Alder.
The Northwestern built a side track four miles long up to Mercier's camp, and the logs to run the mill this winter will be hauled over this track. Mercier's camps are model ones.

Short of Woodsmen

West Superior, Wis., Oct. 16.—Lumbermen, who have started logging operations in this vicinity, say they are having trouble to get men. Many contracts have been made heavy cuttings. Teams are scarce as well as men. The lowest offer is $30 a month. That is for the swampers, who two years ago were getting $16 a month. The outlook seems to be that the wages will advance rather than decrease.

Child's Prayer Answered.

The three months' voting contest for the most popular little girl in Webster
City, Iowa, has closed as follows: Ethel Howell, 9,455; Helen Beaumont, 9,031;
Irene Merrill, 5,000; Ethel Howell's parents are poor, while those of the other two girls are rich. When the contest was announced in the papers Ethel's mother read it to her, and the child at once began praying that she would receive the prize. Every night for the three months of the contest she repeated her prayer. Three years ago when Ethel was 6 years old she was playing around the stove; her apron caught fire and her face was badly burned. Last year her schoolmates made a collection that paid her way to Chicago for treatment, but nothing could be done to take away the scars.

there will be no end of trouble.

Manila, Oct. 16.—A steamer from Iloilo brings news, that the bodies of nine Moros were found lying on the beach near Jolo. They belonged to Dato Jokanine's followers. They were carefully mutilated. Dato Jokanine has been threatening to make war on the sultan, and it is thought this murder was committed by the angry followers of the sultan. It is believed that Jokanine will promptly retaliate on the sultan and that the murder will mark the beginning of a bitter war between the two native leaders.

Manila Outbreak Is Averted.

The authorities were informed Saturday from reliable sources that an outbreak in the poorer districts of Manila had been carefully planned for daylight on Sunday. It failed to occur, probably on account of the vigorous measures enforced. Many natives of the district left, taking their valuables.
All the small shops, which the guards usually forced to close at 8:30 p. m., were shut at sunset. A general feeling of uneasiness was apparent.

The guards of the city were doubled and a strong force stationed at the slaughter house, the center of the unruly section. Two guns of the Sixth artillery were stationed near by at a point commanding the native quarter.
The commanders of the reserve were ordered to be prepared for a call at daylight.

Philippine Junta More Active.

Madrid, Oct. 16.—The Filipino juntas
at Singapore, Hongkong, Tokyo, Madrid and London are redoubling their activity. They seem to have some sort of belief that complications growing out of the war in South Africa are going to help their cause.

A private letter received here confirms what has been already cabled to the effect that the Filipinos are buying torpedoes and machine guns in Belgium and Germany.

According to news which reaches Madrid, Spanish residents of Manila are in a terrible condition, and the government refuses to repatriate any who are not in the service of the state.

Another Mississippi River Pearl

Prairie du Chien, Wis., Oct. 16.—Another big pearl has been found in a clam taken from the channel of the Mississippi river west of the city by ton shaped. It was sold by Mr. Chase

UNIVERSITY TEAM

HERE THIS MORNING

MANY LOCAL ADMIRERS WERE AT THE DEPOT.

Manager Fisher Says That the Yale Eleven Have a Hard Task to Perform—Wisconsin Boys Confident of Scoring—Whitewater Defeats Janesville.

Members of the State University football team arrived in Janesville this morning at 6:30 o'clock, being on their way to Hartford, Connecticut, to do battle with the first eleven of Yale.

In spite of the earliness of the hour there was a good sized delegation of local admirers at the Chicago and Northwestern depot when the limited pulled into the Bower City. John Fisher of this city, who is manager of the Wisconsin eleven, was the first man to alight when the train came to a standstill. Manager Fisher said:

"We have a team here that all Wisconsin may feel proud of. They fully realize the task that they have before them and in my opinion will be equal to the coming trying situation. Every man is in perfect health and a better team never left the Badger state."

The party was composed of twenty-six men, including Coach King, Trainer Andrew O'Dea, Assistant Trainer Gilkey and Manager Fisher. The following named players will be taken: R. Chamberlain, A. A. Chamberlain, Cochems, Rodgers, Lerum, Blair, Curtis, Yeager, Crego, Wright, Juneau, Comstock, Hyman, Wilmoth, Skow, Tratt, Peele, Joliffe, Hamilton, Driver, Patterson and O'Dea.

The game set for Christmas day between the University of Wisconsin and the University of California, will probably not be played. Capt. O'Dea of the Badger team said today that the Wisconsin management would probably be compelled to give it up, although they wished to play the Westerners.

Brotherhood Victors.

Members of the second eleven of the Janesville High school have good reason to long remember Brotherhood. Saturday afternoon they played the second team of the Brotherhood high school at Brotherhood and met defeat to the tune of 43 to 0.

At no time during the entire game was the team from the Bower City equal to the task and no member of the eleven has a word to say or an excuse to make.

Janesville Defeated.

At Whitewater Saturday afternoon members of the first eleven of the Janesville High school were defeated by the Whitewater High school team by a score of 23 to 7.

TELLS OF DUEL TO THE DEATH

Peck's Sun Speaks of the Headings in Two Local Papers

Under the heading, "A Duel to the Death," Peck's Sun publishes the following:

The Wisconsin editors have been watching a headline duel, for a year or more, between two newspapers in the state, which is increasing in interest all the time. The two papers are The Janesville Recorder, a morning democratic paper, and The Gazette, an evening republican paper. In political campaigns the papers have fought nobly for their respective sides, but a campaign cannot last always, and between times something besides politics must be sought to create rivalry. Most papers are contented with having a headline of simple form, placed over their death notices, such as "Died," and it is possible that was the form, years ago, of announcing sad news at Janesville, but one day Mr. Nowlan of The Gazette, had a headline over his obituary notices, "To the Beautiful Beyond," and the next day Mr. Mount of The Recorder called Mr. Nowlan's poetic hand with the headline, "Across the Silent River." The two men met on the bridge in the evening, and there was a look in Mr. Mount's eye as much as to say, "Now will you lie quiet?" while Mr. Nowlan appeared to say, "You wait till after the draw," and thus the matter rested for a day or two, until The Gazette came out with the headline, "To the Unknown Beyond," and Mr. Nowlan stood pat. The next morning Mr. Mount, in The Recorder, started his obituary with "Where Sorrows Are No More," and ducked, while The Gazette came back with "Crossed to the Other Side," and The Recorder countered with "Joined the Angelic Choir." By this time the rivalry had become intense, and the readers of the two papers were making bets as to which would come under the wire ahead, the Democrats naturally taking sides with Mr. Mount, while the Republicans would stake their bottom dollar on Mr. Nowlan. It was noticed that the two editors had become studious and preoccupied, and did not take that interest in the sports of the chase that they had formerly taken, and from personal friends with nothing between them but politics, Mr. Mount and Mr. Nowlan got so they scarcely recognized each other on the street. There was no open break between them, but when Mount wanted to borrow Nowlan's gun it was a singular coincidence that it had just been sent to the shop for repairs, while Mr. Mount's rod and reel, which had always been at the disposal of his friend, had been left at Geneva Lake, when Mr. Nowlan found that the bass were biting down below the bridge. There was a truce for a few days, during a healthy week, but time makes all things even, and one day The Recorder came out with a heading, "Joined the Choir in the Skies," and The Gazette returned at once with "Work of the Death Angel," and the next day The Recorder had one, "Death's Heavy Hand," the Gazette said, "The Boatman of the Styx," and the two editors went off on a vacation. As they went to the same lake and to the same club house, the friends of both are looking for trouble. Each man is a fighter, and while neither would attack the other without a proper warning, the friends fear that some heated argument will come up which will start a vendetta, which will cause the friends of both to take sides, and if so, Rock county is going to resemble Kentucky as a dark and bloody ground. The Sun rather sides with Mr. Mount, on account of politics, but it realizes that Mr. Nowlan is the better shot, but if both get in their work at once, and both shots are equally fatal, all the newspapers in the state will head their obituary notices as follows: "Two Mighty Good Fellows, and Dead Game Sports, Gone to the Happy Hunting Grounds, Where You Don't Need a License, and No Game Warden is There to Molest or Make Them Afraid to Shoot Before the Season is Open."

Town Lots in New Towns

Merchants, doctors, lawyers and all classes of profession, business or trade, who are looking to a change of location, will find it to their material advantage to secure their new locations at one of the new towns on the lines now being constructed by the Chicago & Northwestern railway. They are in sections of the country that have hitherto been without adequate railroad and proper market facilities.

The surrounding country is enormously rich, and the towns are all bound to be thrifty and prosperous. Any of them will prove a sure money maker for speculation or business location.

These towns are all owned and managed by the Railroad company, and the original low prices still prevail as an inducement to settlement.

ASSESSMENT SHOWS

COUNTY IS WEALTHY

CLERK STARR MAKES ANNUAL REPORT.

Horses and Cattle Foot Up a Valuation of Several Thousand Dollars—One Thousand One Hundred and Twenty Bicycles are Within Our County Line—Other Figures.

County Clerk Starr's assessment report for the year 1899 for Rock county furnishes interesting figures that go to show that prosperity has plainly manifested itself on all sides.

The people of Rock county own 15,179 horses, of an average value of $24.48; 44,261 cattle valued at 12.18; 2,595 sheep valued at $1.56; and 29,329 hogs valued at $3.59. There are 1,955 watches at an average value of $10.50, but unfortunately none are found in the town of Ayon. Every town and city has pianos and organs, 1,700 of them, average value $86.20. There are $1,120 bicycles assessed in the county, but the towns of Bradford, Fulton, Janesville and city of Janesville are not on the list as owning any of them. We have $661,842 of merchants' and manufacturers' stock; $1,002,922 notes and mortgages—none of which are in the town of Nowark—and $8315,568 worth of leaf tobacco in the county. The value of all personal property assessed is $857,277 or $83.93 per capita of population. The total assessment of all property in the county is $20,160,086. During the year ending Sept. 1st there were 16,725 acres of land sold at an average of $53.24 per acre. The same was assessed at an average of $21.17 per acre. Also 1,075 city and village lots were sold at an average price of $315.39. Rock county has 22,682 milk cows and produced 3,311,909 pounds of butter and 152,535 pounds of cheese last year. We raise only 535 acres of wheat, 99,960 acres of corn, 78,707 acres of oats and 3,876 acres of potatoes. The county has 22,782 acres of growing timber.

"AT PINEY RIDGE" TONIGHT

David Higgins' Famous Play to Reappear at the Myers Grand

The breath of the pine trees and the free and open life of the mountain is nowhere better set forth on the stage than in "At Piney Ridge," the southern play by David Higgins. Time deals very kindly with this drama and it is as fresh and attractive now after three years of success before the country as when it first saw the glare of the footlights in New York City in February, 1897. In other words it doesn't wear out and as Mr. Higgins still has a fine company, it is said better than ever before, we may expect a splendid dramatic triumph on the occasion of the plays presentation at the Myers Grand this evening, where Mr. Higgins and his play and company come for one night's engagement.

"End'nhead Wilson" Was Good

"Pudd'nhead Wilson" was the attraction at the Myers Grand Saturday evening, and was a very pleasing production. The play is in excellent hands and no improvement could be suggested.

Edwin Mayo, of course, carried off the honors, but local interest and appreciation, naturally centered on W. R. McKey, formerly of this city. Mr. McKey took the part of the county sheriff and did his work well.

PRESIDENT NEEDED REST.

Forced to Disappoint Crowds of Admirers at Sioux City.

STRAIN HAS BEEN TOO GREAT.

Hard Work of the Past Week Has Its Effect—Needed Quiet Obtained Saturday Night and Sunday—Trying Itinerary for Today.

Sioux City, Iowa, Oct. 15.—President McKinley has had one day of rest, the first since leaving Washington. He went to church Sunday morning, and from there to Sunday school. In the evening his entire party dined with George D. Perkins, former congressman from this district. The rest of the time he remained on his train at Leeds, five miles out, to avoid the noisily curious crowds. The presidential train left at 10:45 at night for Milwaukee and intermediate points.

Sioux City has been keenly disappointed in the president's visit. It expected him Saturday night. Every preparation had been made to give him a stupendous reception. Three states—Iowa, Nebraska and a corner of South Dakota—contributed 40,000 people who wanted to see and hear him. South Dakota, and especially the Jim River valley, would not let loose of him, though, soon enough to give Sioux City a chance.

The warmth of South Dakota's greeting had worn out the president. He had to be sidetracked at Riverside, two miles from the city limits, and did not come in here until the morning. He should have reached here, according to the itinerary schedule, not later than 9 o'clock Saturday night, and besides a tremendous audience, a parade ready for review and a banquet awaited him.

Toward nightfall it became evident that his train would be late, so the parade and the banquet were declared off by wire. Sioux City wired, though, that 40,000 people were waiting for the chief executive, so President McKinley agreed to see and speak to them from the platform erected in the union depot.

Mayor Quick, Mr. Perkins, E. H. Hubbard, W. P. Manley and James F. Toy met the president's train in Elk Point. There they learned that the president was exhausted, and could not think of going on to Sioux City. Mrs. McKinley's health also had to be considered.

Today the president will have a hard day. The following towns will be visited: Cedar Falls, Iowa; Waterloo, Iowa; Manchester, Iowa; Dubuque, Iowa; Galena, Ill.; Madison, Wis.; Waukesha, Wis.; Milwaukee, Wis.

James H. Eckels Badly Hurt. New York, Oct. 15.—James H. Eckels, former controller of the currency, who was knocked down in Fifth avenue by a wagon Saturday night, spent Sunday in bed at his apartments in the Holland house. He is resting easily, however, and expects to be out soon.

Samoan Rumor Discredited. Berlin, Oct. 15.—The North German Gazette denies the statement that Germany has consented to Great Britain's receiving Upolu, the largest of the Samoan island group, Germany receiving compensation elsewhere. Apparently, the negotiations have had no result.

It doubles the joy of the human heart, brightens body and brain. That's what Rocky Mountain Tea will do. 35 cents. Smith's Pharmacy, kodak agents.

Kaiser Honors Gen. Harrison. Berlin, Oct. 15.—The press of the city points out that at the recent reception to Gen. Benjamin Harrison he was especially honored by Emperor William, his majesty even disregarding the rules of court etiquette by seating Gen. Harrison at the table of honor reserved for members of the royal families.

Samuel—Don't figure on marrying a model wife, unless you are a mind reader and know for certain that she takes Rocky Mountain Tea. Smith's Pharmacy, kodak agents.

WELLESLEY'S NEW HEAD.

A Literary Woman of an Old Rhode Island Family.

Miss Caroline Hazard, who was recently installed as president of Wellesley, belongs to the well known Hazard family of Rhode Island. She is 42 years old and has gained considerable reputation by her writings. She is the granddaughter of Rowland G. Hazard, the woolen manufacturer of Peacedale, who had some reputation as a writer on philosophical subjects. Miss Hazard collected and edited her grandfather's writings.

Miss Hazard did not pursue a formal college course, but spent her student days in Providence, where she enjoyed such collegiate advantages as were at that time given to women by Brown university, which then had no woman's college. She probably received most from the inspiring tuition of the late Professor Diman, whose memoirs she wrote in 1886. From him she gained a broad conception of history and an enthusiasm for research.

This latter quality is shown in a work entitled "Thomas Hazard, Son of Robert, Called College Tom; or, Student Life in Narragansett in the Eighteenth Century." By His Grandson's Granddaughter. This was compiled from family papers and village records and is remarkable for its antiquarian minuteness. She also published a volume of "Narragansett Ballads" and a collection of religious sonnets.

In recognition of her attainments, the University of Michigan has conferred upon her the degree of M. A. and Brown university the degree of Litt. D. Miss Hazard brings also to the presidency a mind well equipped for the management of affairs. She was long associated with her father, the late Rowland Hazard, in plans for the community which has grown up about the factories of the Hazard family in Peacedale and was intrusted by him with the work of carrying out many of these plans.

BURNS' GRANDDAUGHTER.

Descendant of the Scotch Bard Now Living in California.

A direct descendant of Robert Burns is living in Nevada City, Cal. She is Mrs. Susan Eleanor Andrews, and she is a great-granddaughter of the immortal Scotch bard. Mrs. Andrews is the wife of an old Californian, who hails from Londonderry, Ireland.

Mrs. Andrews is the daughter of Elizabeth Burns, the daughter of Robert Burns, one of the two sons of the poet. Robert Burns, the younger, had five children, four daughters and a son, named respectively in the order of their seniority Mary, Susan, Elizabeth or Betty, Prudence and John. Mary, Susan and Prudence died early in life. Betty married a Scotchman named Lamont and emigrated with him to America in 1835. Mrs. Andrews is one of the issues of that marriage. She was born at Nesquehoning, Pa., in 1844.

John Burns remained with his father until the time of his death in 1840, and, after the death of his wife in 1870, he likewise crossed the Atlantic to join his sister. He died four years ago, leaving four daughters, two in America and two in Ireland. Mrs. Lamont died in 1883, and four children survive her. Mrs. Andrews takes great pride in her relationship to Bobbie Burns, from whom she has inherited a talent for verse writing.

WINE OF CARDUI

How a Woman Suffers.

HOWELL, IND., Nov. 25. I will always praise Wine of Cardui. It has done me more good than all the medicines I have ever taken in my life. Please send a book about female diseases to the ladies whose names I enclose.

Mrs. MINNIE STODGHILL.

Wine of Cardui

It isn't necessary for a woman to give particulars. When she says she has "female troubles," other women know what that means. It means days and nights of endless suffering. It means headaches which no tongue can describe. It means that terrible bearing and dragging down in the lower abdomen. It means agonizing backache and shoulder ache, and arm ache, and aches in the lower limbs. It means nerves on edge—the blues—despondency and loss of hope. It means debilitating drains that the doctors call leucorrhea. It means martyrdom—sometimes even death seems preferable. And still Wine of Cardui will utterly put those diseases and pains to rout. It has cured thousands of cases when nothing else on earth would. To the budding woman, to the bride, to the wife, to the expectant mother, to those going through the Change of Life, this Vegetable Wine is a blessing.

1861—Sailors of the United States cruiser Baltimore mobbed at Valparaiso; beginning of the Imbroglione with Chile.

ADVANCES IN WAGES.

The Philadelphia Ledger, never quite favorable to protective tariff legislation, in a recent article asserted in effect that one of the main purposes of the present tariff law was to give good wages to workmen; and the journal imperatively demanded that the protected manufacturers should proceed to fulfill this purpose. There would appear to be no reason for any clamorous reference to this matter just at this time. As business improves and prices rise there is observable upon all sides a disposition upon the part of manufacturers to advance wages. In fact, the thing probably in a large measure regulates itself, whether employers be willing or unwilling. As the demand for products is made pressing and urgent by improving conditions, prices go up automatically and the call for efficient men is so loud that few employers can hold such men without giving them more pay. We refer to the subject, however, for the purpose of denying the proposition that the principal purpose of the tariff is to put up wages directly. This is one of the purposes, and experience has shown that it is always accomplished excepting when business is in an abnormal state of depression. The large, important and general purpose of protection is to permit the manufacturing industries to get into existence and stay there, acquiring strength. When they do this, the very fact of their existence and successful operation supplies ever widening opportunities to labor and steadily good wages. Protection, for example, permitted the tin plate industry to be built up here. This uses the service of men who, but for its presence, would now be in other lines of work. To the extent in which it has reduced pressure upon other industries from laborers, it has helped increase the value of the labor now engaged in those industries. This law runs all along the lines of protected businesses, and thus while the manufacturer is a beneficiary of the tariff system, the benefits are fully shared by the workmen.—Philadelphia Textile Record.

Peck's Sun makes the obituary heading in the Gazette and the Recorder the subject of a very amusing article, but as it didn't refer to the painful facts that the Gazette once accidentally ran a wedding notice under the "death head" entitled "Another Good Man is Lost," and the Recorder, about the same time, got a patent medicine poem mixed up into an obituary notice, all is hereby forgiven.

In discussing the merits of The Gazette and The Recorder as creators of artistic headings, Peck's Sun says its sympathies are with The Recorder man because of his politics, but The Gazette man is the better marksman with a shot gun. This does us proud, for while anyone can be a democrat, the scientific duck-shooter is born and not made.

The Boer war will send diamond prices skyward. This is too bad, for many Janesville husbands have now given up the thought of buying earrings and rings for their wives at Christmas.

Bank robbers got a warm reception at Sevierville, Tenn., the other day. The only good bank robber is a dead bank robber, and they should all be made to be good.

The British authorities have established a strict censorship at Cape Town, and a flock of round robins will doubtless soon be let loose.

Hill and Croker are now having it out: May the better man win.

Close of Y. M. C. A. Convention

Green Bay, Wis., Oct. 16.—The state Y. M. C. A. convention closed yesterday with devotional exercises, the business having been concluded at last night's sessions. Services were conducted by delegates in several churches, and this afternoon there were well attended meetings for men, women and boys. The delegates, headed by the Janesville band, marched in a body to Turner hall, where the men's meeting was held.

closed shops, the owners thereof should keep a careful account of the things taken.

No News at London.

London, Oct. 16.—Officials at the war office and colonial office state that no official news of importance has been received from South Africa.

A correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that at all the principal passes leading from the Free State and the Transvaal into Natal cannons are placed in position, and rough defenses have been constructed near Van Reenen's pass and Laing's Nek at points miles within Natal territory.

Anxiety centers in Mafeking. The wires being cut, all communication with the place is suspended, and it is not known whether re-enforcements have yet reached Col. Baden-Powell. If not, he is resisting 8,000 Boers with a force of 600. Yet the opinion expressed in military circles is that Col. Baden-Powell's resource and luck may pull him through.

The Daily Mail's correspondent at Aliwal north states that the Boers are preparing to attack Stormberg junction.

Fear of Dutch Revolt.

Ahwal North, Natal, Oct. 16.—The Orange Free State forces about Bethulie, just over the border, and at Ahwal North on the other side of the frontier make no sign of an advance, for the reason, doubtless, that hostilities here would amount to civil war.

There is a mixed British and Dutch population on each side of the Orange river, united by ties of kinship and friendship. Many law-abiding Dutch burghers here have sons and brothers who are citizens of the Orange Free State, and therefore out with the Free State forces.

In the meantime the English doctor attends his patients on the other side of the border, and Boer riflemen ride across the line to buy goods at British stores, despite the proclamation forbidding trade with the Boer republic, which would be difficult as well as impolitic to enforce hereabouts.

Railway and postal communication is now stopped, but the last mail brought a copy of the Bloemfontein Express, with an appeal to the colonial Boers, concluding with these words:

"We shall continue the war to the bloody end. You will assist us. Our God, who has so often helped us, will not forsake us."

What effect this appeal may have is as yet in doubt, but it is certain any rising of the colonial Dutch would send the colonial British into the field in full strength.

If there is a Dutch rising in sympathy with the Orange Free State it will begin at Burgersdorp, a town of 2,000 inhabitants and the birthplace of the Afrikaner bond, on Nov. 9, when the Boers held their annual wappenschouwing, or rifle contest.

Many Transkei Kaffirs have passed through here, owing to the closing of the mines at Johannesburg. They were treated with the greatest brutality by the Boers. They were flogged to the railway station and robbed of their wages. Even the women were searched for money, with the grossest indecency.

Following is the strength and disposition of the British troops in Natal: At Ladysmith, 7 batteries, 32 guns, 4,000 infantry; at Estcourt, 200 volunteers, and at Colenso, 427 volunteers. These, with the force at Pietermaritzburg, make a total of 15,000 men in Natal.

MAY UNITE FRANCE AND GERMANY.

Transvaal War Likely to Result in Serious Complications.

Paris, Oct. 16.—In some quarters in Paris it is believed that a Franco-German understanding will be one of the results of the war in Africa. Several of the leading continental journals outside of France develop the same idea, the reason given being that the Germans must be strong enough to meet the United States and Great Britain, "who could easily destroy the German navy."

The fear keeps growing stronger here that a complicated diplomatic situation is likely to arise in the course of the war.

Italian Press Favors the Boers.

Rome, Oct. 16.—The press of Rome is unanimously friendly to the Transvaal. There is considerable popular agitation of the question of raising recruits in the Boers' aid, but the government has assured Great Britain that no volunteers will be permitted to depart for the Transvaal. The Italian outlanders in the land are neutral.

Marchand Would Enlist.

Scrofula, a Vile Inheritance.

Scrofula is the most obstinate of blood troubles, and is often the result of an inherited taint in the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Scrofula; it forces out every trace of the disease, and cures the worst cases.

My son, Charlie, was afflicted from infancy with Scrofula, and he suffered so that it was impossible to dress him for three years. His head and body were a mass of sores, and his eyesight also became affected. No treatment was spared that we thought would relieve him, but he grew worse until his condition was indeed pitiable. I had almost despaired of his ever being cured, when by the advice of a friend we gave him S. S. S. (Swift's Specific). A decided improvement was the result, and after he had taken a dozen bottles, no one who knew of his former dreadful condition would have recognized him. All the sores on his body have healed, his skin is perfectly clear and smooth, and he has been restored to perfect health.

THREE THOUSAND ATTENDED SERVICE

CATHOLIC CHURCHES CROWDED YESTERDAY.

Archbishop Katzer of Milwaukee Conducted Services—Rev. Father O'Keefe, President of Watertown College, Was Present—Other Visiting Priests Were in Attendance.

Three thousand people attended confirmation exercises yesterday at St. Patrick's and St. Mary's churches, when one hundred and ninety new members were taken into the church by Archbishop Katzer of Milwaukee.

At St. Patrick's one hundred and twenty members were admitted, while at St. Mary's church seventy comprised the number.

Long before the hour of services people commenced to arrive at St. Patrick's church, and by 10 o'clock not a vacant seat was to be had in any part of the edifice.

The committee on decorations had left nothing undone and the interior was beautified by cut flowers, palms, potted plants and smilax. The handsome altar was illuminated by many candles.

The chas occupied seats in front of the altar. The girls were attired in white dresses, with white flowing veils. A small wreath of smilax rested on their heads. The boys wore clothes of black.

Services opened at 10:30 o'clock by the celebration of mass by the Rev. J. J. Collins, after which Rev. Michael Condon of Dane county, preached an eloquent sermon. Rev. O'Keefe of Watertown and Dean McGinnity assisted in the service.

Archbishop Katzer of Milwaukee, then performed confirmation. The choir furnished excellent music, assisted by Prof. Smith's orchestra.

St. Mary's Church

At St. Mary's church services were held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Standing room was at a premium long before the hour of service. The church was tastefully decorated with flowers, potted plants and smilax.

Rev. W. A. Goebel preached an excellent sermon. He spoke at length on what confirmation meant to the children in an educational way. He laid special stress on the fact that moral training should be always kept in mind. He stated that it was the moral boy of today, the one with the pure character, that was being most sought after by the merchant and manufacturer. Rev. Goebel said that he knew of no better school for boys and girls today than the Janesville High school, stating that under the able leadership of Prof. Mayne it was a credit to any community.

Archbishop Katzer conducted confirmation, assisted by Rev. Schneider, Rev. O'Keefe, Watertown; Rev. Condon, Dane county; Rev. E. M. McGinnity, Rev. J. J. Collins and Rev. W. A. Goebel.

Thirty-five trained voices, under the able leadership of Rev. Riviere, furnished inspiring music. Miss Gibbons was at the organ.

At both St. Patrick's and St. Mary's churches many were unable to gain admittance.

IT SURPRISED HIM.

The Professor Expected Death, but Heard Smooth Language.

The late Prof. Marsh loved to tell of an adventure which once befell him while a member of a party of fossil hunters in the Indian territory. The whole party realized that they were in a dangerous country, and all hands were constantly on the watch for enemies, and were careful not to wander far from the command; or if two or three fossil gatherers did go off from the main body they took with them a number of soldiers to stand guard while they worked. One day Prof. Marsh was hard at work on his knees in the bottom of the narrow ravine digging away the soil from a bone which stuck out of the bank. He was entirely absorbed in his task and noticing nothing of what was going on about him until the brilliant sunlight was cut off by a dark shadow, and he looked up to see standing above him a grim Indian warrior holding his rifle ready. The professor's heart leaped into his throat. He forgot where he was. He strove to utter a propitiatory "How," but his dry lips refused to form the word, and he could only swallow, trying to get rid of the lump in his throat. Suddenly the savage bent toward him and spoke: "Have I the honor of addressing Prof. Othnell Charles Marsh, the eminent paleontologist of Yale College?" he inquired. The revulsion of feeling was almost too much for the professor, who was now even less able to speak than he had been before. It developed that the Indian, as a small boy, had been sent East, Christianized, educated, taught the element of theology, and sent back to the West to civilize his tribe.—Forest and Stream.

CHILD FALLS FROM THE SECOND FLOOR

SARAH GARBUTT BREAKS BOTH ARMS.

Accidentally Lost Her Balance While Sitting on the Window Sill—Strikes the Ground With Outstretched Arms—Fifteen Foot Fall—She Will Recover.

From the second story window of the Harry Garbutt residence, 159 Terrace street, yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock, six-year-old Sarah Garbutt accidentally fell to the ground below, a distance of fifteen feet, landing with outstretched arms. As the result the bones in both arms are broken between the elbow and wrist.

Mrs. Garbutt witnessed the accident from the second story window in which the child was seated. She rushed to the yard below, and as she took the child's form into her arms the little one said: "Don't cry, mama; nothing is broken."

Dr. E. E. Loomis and Dr. James Mills were called and on examination it was found that the bones in both arms were fractured below the elbow. The child was also painfully bruised but will recover.

Mrs. Garbutt said that when she went to the second floor to do the chamber work her daughter followed her and seated herself on the window-sill which is about a foot above the floor. While seated on the sill, facing in, she lost her balance and fell outward. As she fell she screamed thus attracting her mother's attention. Mrs. Garbutt reached the window just as her daughter struck the ground.

REVIEWED WORK DURING PAST YEAR

TEMPERANCE ENTHUSIASTS HELD ROUSING MEETING.

Speakers Declared That Their Efforts in the Local Field Have Been Rewarded—Many New Recruits Have Been Received—Frances Murphy to Return

One hundred members of the Francis Murphy Temperance League held a rousing meeting yesterday afternoon at their rooms, corner of Milwaukee and River streets, and reviewed the work taken in hand during the past year.

Reports from the officers present showed that progress has been made on all sides and that the League has accomplished much good. Many ex-drinkers, who joined the League a year ago, were present and spoke, saying that they have kept the pledge they signed twelve months ago.

Dr. James Mills, as president, called the meeting to order at 4:15 with Secretary John H. Jones at the desk. J. C. Kline, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., led the singing.

The first speaker on the program was the Rev. E. H. Pence of the Presbyterian church. No one in Janesville has taken a deeper interest in temperance work than Rev. Mr. Pence and his speech yesterday was one that touched the heart of every man and woman present. He briefly reviewed the work of the League during the past few months and was of the opinion that much good had been accomplished.

Dr. D. N. Stradley of Longmont, Col., spoke at length on the life of a drunkard from a physician's standpoint. He told of the effect liquor had on the brain and of how it soon deadened the three million nerve cells located there. Dr. Stradley said that he was surprised when told that Janesville had forty-seven saloons. He stated that only one saloon existed in all Colorado without Denver.

Dr. J. B. Whiting was then called upon and spoke briefly, but as is his wont, to the point.

Albert Smith, one of the hardest workers in the interest of temperance, then told of the addition of many new members into the ranks of the Murphy League.

Harry Ashcraft of this city, gave an excellent talk, and there were also other speakers.

The league intend to hold meetings every two weeks during the coming winter. An effort will be made to secure Francis Murphy for a series of lectures to be held in this city in December.

WAS FULL OF HONORED YEARS

R. E. Andrews.

R. E. Andrews died at his home on Walnut street, Maroa, Ill., on Thursday, Oct. 5, aged seventy-seven years. Mr. Andrews was the husband of Miss Louise Whiting, who has many friends in Janesville, and is a sister of Dr. J. B. Whiting of this city.

From the Macon county papers we learn that Mr. Andrews was born on December 15, 1822, at Worthington, O. He had resided in Maroa since 1863, and for many years was one of the most prominent citizens, socially, financially and in business affairs. For a long time he was a leading merchant and engaged in the dry goods and clothing business. Financial reverses came upon him in later years by unfortunate investments, and he died a poor man. He was ever a polished gentleman, a man of reserve power, strong convictions and of honorable life, and was always held in the highest regard by the citizens of Maroa and vicinity, never losing the esteem of the people among whom he had lived so long.

His funeral was held from the Presbyterian church and was largely attended.

Wells of this city, and Mrs. W. Z. Nichols of Lakeside, South Dakota. The remains will be sent tonight to Lakeside, South Dakota, where the interment will take place.

The pall bearers were: Levi Ellis, John Ellis, William Fisher, John O'Leary, Patrick Tracy and Thomas Tracy.

A Good Matter.

New York Tribune: Dr. Edward Everett Hale says that when he brought home his first report from the famous Boston Latin school it showed that he stood only ninth in a class of fifteen. "Probably the other boys are brighter than you," said his mother. "God made them so, and you cannot help that. But the report says you are among the boys who behave well. That you can see to, and that is all I care about."

Don't Use Hot Water.

Hot water should never be used for glass of any kind which has held milk until the latter has been thoroughly rinsed in cold water. The reason for this is that the heat drives in the milk to the glass, causing a cloudy appearance, which cannot be removed. Milk cans should always have a rinsing with cold water prior to the washing with hot.

D. K. JEFFRIS' MILL DESTROYED BY FIRE

BURNS SECOND TIME WITHIN ONE YEAR.

Was Totally Destroyed on October 25, 1897—Located in the Northern Pineries at Jeffris, Wisconsin—Covered by Insurance and Will Be Rebuilt.

Fire, early Sunday morning, destroyed the D. K. Jeffris saw mill located at Jeffris, Wis. A telegram arrived in this city yesterday, briefly bearing the above facts and Mr. Jeffris left Janesville at once for the scene of the conflagration.

The mill and contents were valued at about $15,000 and were insured, but to what extent is not known.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. One hundred hands are thrown out of work.

As soon as the flames were discovered the small number of men on hand directed their efforts in saving the planing mill and large lumber piles located 800 feet from the burning structure.

The mill and machinery is reported to be a total loss. Carpenters will be put to work at once to replace the loss and a model mill in every respect will be erected.

Mr. Jeffris has been unfortunate with his mill, it having once before burned, being totally destroyed on October 25, 1897.

LATE NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL BURNS.

Four Hundred Boys Made Homeless by a Peeshanville Blaze.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—As the result of fire in St. Mary's training school at Peeshanville Sunday afternoon 400 boys are homeless, the institution is a smoking heap of ruins, and six other buildings are destroyed, at a total loss of $200,000, with an insurance of only $60,000.

Archbishop Feehan's summer home was the only building on the grounds of the institution that was saved from the fury of the flames, and this was done only after a long struggle by the attaches of the institution and the fire department from Desplaines, which was called upon.

The blaze originated in the chapel of the home during afternoon vesper service at 2:15 o'clock.

Fortune Raised in One Hour.

New York, Oct. 16.—One thousand dollars a minute for fifty-six minutes is a good record even for a professional raiser of money like Prof. A. B. Besides the $50,000 mentioned, Mr. Simpson read promises of $100,000, and one earnest and emotional person in the audience, not having money enough with him to use as an offering, passed a gold watch up to the platform.

BASEBALL SEASON ENDED.

Official Percentages of the Clubs in the National League.

The National league baseball season of 1899—the most unsatisfactory for half a dozen years—closed yesterday. Double-headers were played at Chicago and Cincinnati. The Orphans needed both games to crowd past Pittsburgh into seventh place, but failed to get more than one. The Reds took both of their games from Cleveland and finished only three points behind St. Louis for the leadership of the western teams. Chicago during the year has dropped from fourth place, its 1898 position, to eighth. Other teams to end worse than last year are Boston, Cincinnati and New York. Philadelphia did much better, and Pittsburgh, Washington and Louisville improved somewhat. The other four teams were so shifted about that comparison is impossible. Cleveland was the only team to play out the entire schedule of 154 games. The final standings for 1899 and 1898 are as follows:

	Final '99.	Final '98.

AS TO FREEDOM FOR CUBA.

Believed the Next Congress Will Not Dispose of the Matter.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Senator Davis, who left Saturday for St. Paul, is understood to believe that the next congress will not provide for the ultimate disposition of Cuba and the Philippines. It is understood that the president believes that Cuba and the Philippines should be, for the present, left in control of the executive. This opinion seems to be shared by most of the administration republican senators who have had talks with the president. This may be said to be the chief reason why the administration is so earnest in securing the support of the people in its Philippine policy. The president knows that all of the islands will eventually have their fate settled by congress. He thinks that now is the time for congress to deal with Porto Rico and Hawaii.

He thinks the time has not arrived to deal with the other islands. With this conviction he must necessarily go before the people, seeking their confidence to support the wisdom and ability of the administration to deal with the remaining islands until such time as it is best for congress to act. This would leave the ultimate government of these islands a direct and tangible issue in the next presidential campaign. Congressmen and presidential electors could be voted on with the knowledge that they were for or against the holding of these islands. This would give the whole people of the United States a voice in the matter. If the matter should be settled in congress it would be done by a congress not elected on this issue and by an executive not specifically instructed by the whole federal electorate.

THE MULE AS A WAR FACTOR

The Indispensable Mascot of Mars Now Headed Toward South Africa.

BY C. T. BAXTER.

Once more the Missouri mule comes to the front as a war factor. This time the long eared mascot of Mars is headed toward South Africa. English agents have purchased here something like 3,000 of these "St. Louis mule birds," and the animals are now on their way to Cape Town, where they will be used in carrying munitions of war to the Transvaal frontier.

Mule raisers and dealers in the south and west are happy. For the second time in two years the price of mules has gone soaring to the top notch. It is estimated that during the Spanish-American war Uncle Sam paid for mules alone $1,500,000.

For campaigning in a country like South Africa the mule is especially fitted. In the first place, he is a hardy animal. He can carry a pack or drag a wagon all day long without stopping for a meal. If he gets his rations once a day, he is satisfied. Nothing dampens his martial ardor. He will work all day long in the traces and spend half the night in lifting his mournful song toward the stars or trying to kick a hole through anything handy.

In the second place, he does not mind in the least the attentions of the tsetse fly, that insect pest of South Africa which drives horses wild and often makes them perish miserably. The hide of the mule is as thick as his conscience is tough, and it will take something worse than tsetse flies to bother him. Possibly the tune of Boer bullets may make him wish he was facing Spaniards again, but this comes under the head of hazards of war.

St. Louis is the great mule market of the country, but Kansas City and Atlanta are also big centers. Although all mules sold for army purposes are labeled Missouri mules, other states furnish a large quota of the supply.

THE ARMY MULE.
(In a characteristic pose.)

The largest and finest American mules, running from 16 to 18 hands high, are quoted just now at from $175 to $200 each.

The English, however, are not buying mules of this class, which are valuable as heavy draft animals. What the British want for the South African campaign are light pack mules, and it is said their agents have been paying an average of $125 each. Three years ago the best mules raised in Missouri would not bring more than $90.

The fearful noise made by the mule, which comes in somewhere between a donkey's bray and a horse's neigh, is called by facetious soldiers "the quartermaster's band."

Contrary to the looks of the mule, the mule's vocal organs are in his throat and not in his tail, for when he begins his song he lifts his tail simultaneously with his voice. Man has observed this, and to overcome the desire to sing he has hit upon the plan of tying a big stone to the tail of the mule, letting the stone rest, of course, on the ground. The grieved expression on the mule's face when, on clearing his throat for a bray, he turns his head to see why his tail doesn't lift, is worth going miles to see. Mule music is set to words which run something like these:

"Oh—he—oh—he—baw—he—haw—haw—he—haw!"
By the time this is kept up for a weary ten minutes the listener yearns for sweet death, either to himself or to the mule. But the mule hesitates for a second, gives an apologetic cough and then goes right over saying it again. Mules, they say, don't bray at night unless they are thirsty or hungry, which is contrary to the general opinion that they sing simply from pure joy of living.

The distinguishing marks of the army mule are his ears. They are long, corresponding to his countenance of infinite solemnity and the length of time he requires for meditation before doing anything unpleasant.
It may be added that the army mule carries weapons both fore and aft. He can repel attacks from bow or stern. In fact, although he is famous for handiness with his heels, old hands say that his teeth are much more to be feared.

But for all his little peculiarities the mule has come to be reckoned as one of the indispensable necessities of modern warfare, and "when the nations in their harness" go up against each other, as Mr. Kipling has it, the Missouri mule is to be found there or thereabout.

BOON FOR THOSE DEMENTED.

Newly Invented Strait-Jacket That Will Save Much Suffering.

From Washington Times: J. M. Hooper of Baltimore applied for patent papers on an invention that promises to be of incalculable assistance to hospitals and public and private asylums where insane, delirious or ugly patients are handled. The invention is known as a rest sheet and strait-jacket and is a combination of both, holding the patient securely and comfortably without even the aid of an attendant. All the hospitals have felt the need of just such an invention as has been perfected by Mr. Hooper, and hospital attendants in general will hail with delight the advent of the sheet and jacket that will save both many struggles with a wild sufferer and in many cases personal injury of some sort to either the patient or the nurse. The patent is especially to protect insane or delirious patients, and can be adjusted to any bed whatsoever. It can be affixed as readily to a cot or a surgical table, and the patient is held in such a way as not alone to avoid personal injury, but also to prevent the exposure of any part of the body. This will be especially advantageous in many cases where exposure to the air is especially deleterious to the sufferer's chances of recovery. The patient may be left entirely alone without fear, for the strongest man is utterly helpless when under the sheet. The sheet is made of heavy cotton duck, which can be both laundered and sterilized, thus fulfilling all hygienic conditions. The sheet fits close around the neck of the prostrate patient, being edged with chamolins to avoid chafing. The arms come through two openings in the sheet and are held down in a chamolins lined duck trap arrangement that gives ease yet security. The feet are strapped in like manner, being covered with an extra flap of cotton duck to keep off flies and air. This extra flap gives a certain freedom to the feet that would be impossible if placed under the main sheet which is drawn down tight by the fastenings. These are made in such a way as to be impossible to tear out. The head can be turned and the body to some extent, but the most frantic struggles would be productive of no harm on the part of the patient. Two extra straps can be run across the body if deemed necessary. The device has been in use in the city hospital in Baltimore for the past six months, and is given the highest endorsement.

Fitted comfortably for the vigorous demands of winter is the much convincing argument one can meet with nowadays, and more so when all this pleasure can be had for an outlay that is just one dollar and a half less than anything that's but the least bit better, and in a great many cases only just as good. The Regent man's Shoe, at $3.50 a pair, has proven a great success. It is the same price year in and year out. For the present season it comes skillfully made up in the heavier stock with extra thick soles and extension edges, (well sewed always) the kind that stands the racket. OYSTER FISHING IN FUTURE.

Submarine Boats Will Make the Bivalve More Accessible.

The submarine boat will revolutionize the oyster industry. When in Chesapeake bay cruising the old Argonaut frequently settled down on oyster beds and, with the permission of the owners, procured all the oysters desired by reaching down through the sea door. The new Argonaut can employ this method of gathering oysters, rising to the surface when her diving-room is full, or send out divers, who can place the oysters collected in buckets or receptacles, which those on the surface can haul up. When bays and rivers are frozen over and oystermen cannot ply their trade the Argonaut can go under the ice. Fishing can also be carried on easily on the bottom with nets, for the fish have no fear of the object they evidently consider a whale, and swim from every direction toward the glare of the electric lights shining through the ports. Sponge fishing will engage the attention of the first successful submarine voyagers. Good sponges are becoming dearer, for the supply in shallow water is running short. The divers cannot go deeper than twenty-five feet, and the best sponges are found in deep water. To this deep water the Argonaut will go and, gathering the finest sponges, put them on the market at a price no greater than that paid for the common varieties. She will also try pearl fishing, now conducted at an enormous expense of life, for by a strange freak of nature pearl oysters are generally found in localities where bad weather prevails and hurricanes and typhoons are frequent. These the Argonaut, under the water, need not fear, and her divers, instead of gathering up the oysters by the single handful, can gather them by the bushel.—Lippincott's.
